WOOD FIRED BRICK OVEN PIZZA

Italian Neapolitan pizza came in to existence in 1889. Pizza was baked directly on the deck of an open hearth in a coal or wood-fired custom-built brick oven. You're able to see the coal or wood burning in the back of the oven. This "Old World" baking style is not simple. It takes know-how, care, dedication, and professionalism. That's exactly how we bake our pizzas at Mangino's.
